PRESENTED WITH HANDSOME BADGE

CONGRESSMAN BARTLETT THE RECIPIENT OF SOUVENIR FROM ADMIRERS.

Congressman George Bartlett was the recipient last evening of a handsome badge, the gift of warm admirers in Tonopah. It is a badge of white silk ribbon four and one half inches wide and eighteen inches long. The top with a handsome silk flag from Bob Evans's battleship, the Connecticut, the whole surmounted with a silver pin made of metal from the Tonopah mines. Engraved on the pin is "Presented to Congressman George A. Bartlett by his many friends and admirers, Tonopah, Nevada." On the badge proper, printed in gold letters, is "Welcome to Congressman George A. Bartlett. 'He came, he saw, he conquered,'" and "He carried a message to Garcia." The recipient, with moisture in his eyes, made a short speech thanking the donors and said words failed him to express his high appreciation.

Through an omission the name of Clarence Carr was omitted in yesterday morning's Bonanza, in conjunction with that of Trilby Collins, who will look after the pyrotechnic display on the night of the Fourth. Mr. Carr has had a large experience in this line, having in past years had charge of the displays at Grass Valley, Milpitas, Sausalito and numerous other cities. He is thoroughly experienced in the work, and it can be assured that the fireworks will go off in a bunch in a spasm of glory.

WARFARE BEGUN UPON THE YAQUIS

CITY OF MEXICO, July 2.—Four Indians were killed and three captured in a battle between Mexican troops and Yaqui Indians in the Bacatate Mountains, according to information received here today. The troops in that vicinity are pursuing three bands of Indians.

In pursuance of the expressed policy to carry on the war against the Indians with vigor, the government will increase the force in the field against them to 4,000 men. The war is to be one of extermination. Such Indians as are captured will be deported to the southern section of the Republic in the Quintin Rio District.

If you desire ruling or binding in a first-class manner call on the Bonanza and our collector will attend to your wants.

STORES TO CLOSE ON THE FOURTH

Business houses generally will close all day on the Fourth, so it behooves the householder to get busy today and lay in a stock of provisions to last over Sunday. The butchers, however, realizing that it is an utter impossibility in this country to keep meat for more than a day, will open their shops for the accommodation of their customers on Sunday morning from 7 o'clock to 10 o'clock, restricting deliveries to one time.

There are already 11 entries. The miners' single-handed contest, the first prize of which is $100, and the second $50, has already three entries and seven more to come.

KEY PITTMAN'S RESIDENCE BURNS

MRS. PITTMAN AND THE COOK WERE SEVERELY BURNED YESTERDAY.

A fire at 10 o'clock yesterday morning destroyed the residence of Key Pittman on Prospect street, near Tonopah avenue, entailing a loss of $5,000, with insurance on the building to the extent of $1,000.

The good work of neighbors saved the contents of the house in their entirety, every article having been removed within ten minutes after the fire started, without damage to anything. The major portion of the silverware had been placed in the bank vaults several days ago, leaving but a few pieces in the house which had been placed in a safe nook away from the eyes of possible thieves, which were found and carried to a place of safety. The house was being renovated, the floors having been oiled, rugs were, fortunately, in an out-building.

Mrs. Pittman was quite severely burned about the hands and arms in extinguishing the fire which enveloped the cook. With a rare presence of mind, and disregarding her own safety, she rendered the unfortunate woman aid that probably saved her life. Mr. Pittman came to the rescue of both women and managed to extinguish the flames. Mrs. Pittman and the cook had their burns dressed by Dr. Mapes, and they were taken to the residence of Mrs. W. B. Pittman, and both were resting quietly last night.

The fire department responded quickly, but were unable to accomplish anything owing to the extremely low pressure of the water, as the residence is higher than the reservoir.

The Pittmans will occupy the Beardsley home for the time being, and it is Mr. Pittman's intention to commence the construction of a new building at once, which will in all probability be of stone.

The following version of the burning of Mr. Pittman's house yesterday morning was given by Mr. Pittman:

"Breakfast was unusually late this morning for the reason I was working quite late at the office. Shortly after breakfast I left Mrs. Pittman in the pantry where the telephone is situated, telephoning to Mrs. Hamilton, at Goldfield, for the purpose of informing her that we would be over to Goldfield tomorrow on the noon train. I had just stepped out of the back door and was talking to a man who was working in the yard when I heard the cook scream. I ran toward the door, and just as I reached the door to the shed which leads to the kitchen I heard her scream again. On entering I found the cook upon the floor and Mrs. Pittman upon her attempting to extinguish the flames arising from the cook's dress with her hands. I assisted in putting out the fire and rushed Mrs. Pittman and the cook out of the back door. I immediately returned to the kitchen and found that the paper back of the stove, clear up to the ceiling and part way across the ceiling was on fire and burning intensely. The paper was what is known as 'oil cloth' paper, and seemed to contain some ingredient that intensified the combustion. Mrs. Pittman rushed in and commenced to throw water on the fire, but it had no appreciable effect upon it, and I suggested to her that it was impossible to save the house and we had better attempt to save the things in the house. I immediately ran to the phone, called up Central and notified her that our house was on fire, and then went to the front door and yelled 'Fire!' until I saw the neighbors understood me. I then returned and commenced to save the personal property of the greatest value. I had hardly returned from the house with the first awful of clothing before the neighbors were there.

"I have witnessed a great many fires and have been in several, but I never saw men and women work so fearlessly, calmly and intelligently as those at our house today. Practically everything of value in the house was removed within a few minutes without any damage whatever. The fire company arrived promptly, and no doubt would have saved a large portion of the house had the water pressure been sufficient. As it was, the pressure was hardly sufficient to carry the stream to the roof. They did everything in their power, but when they saw it was impossible to save the house they devoted their energies to assisting in saving the furniture and personal effects and in preventing the fire from extending to the surrounding buildings.

"The gasoline used for my automobiles was stored in the garage, in an iron tank, which was at least 100 feet from the house. There was no danger at any time of the fire reaching the garage, but with an abundance of caution the gasoline was removed. The impression was gained that there was gasoline in the house, but this evidently arose from the discussion of the gasoline in the garage. "It is impossible to express our gratitude for the sympathy extended to us by the people of Tonopah, and we can only say that we but partially realize the kind, generous and lovable disposition of the people of this community, after what has taken place. Apparently every house in town has been opened to us and every assistance has been offered. It is only another illustration of the Western spirit."

"The cook was slightly burned and Mrs. Pittman was badly burned on the hands and arms in attempting to extinguish the fire on the cook's clothing. The cook was very much excited, but from her statement an hour or two afterwards I am led to believe that the fire occurred by reason of pouring grease out of a skillet into the top of the stove. The flames arose high above the stove, and the wind coming in the kitchen door caused it to ignite some dish towels on the wall and the paper back of the stove.

"We are thankful that the loss is not greater, and deeply regret that some of those who were helping in saving our property were painfully injured."

KEY PITTMAN'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT

SHOWS APPRECIATION OF SERVICES RENDERED BY FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The appreciation of Key Pittman for the services rendered by the Fire Department and the volunteers in the work done at his residence yesterday was shown last night when Mr. Pittman sent to a meeting of the volunteers, which was held in the fire house, refreshments of both a liquid and solid kind. The department immediately ordered that a vote of thanks be sent to Mr. Pittman, which he will receive today.

A number of new members were added to the list at the meeting, and after the adjournment the refreshments were served and a number of musical selections rendered, followed by an impromptu boxing match.

FALSE ALARM OF FIRE TURNED IN

A false alarm of fire was sent in to the fire department last evening which resulted in the department making a record breaking run to the University Heights. It seemed that some small girl started to yell "Fire!" at the top of her voice, and somebody immediately turned in a alarm. When the department reached the scene there was no fire to be found.

NEW THEATRE OPENS TONIGHT

The new Nevada Theater will open its doors this evening and will present to the theatergoers of Tonopah a first-class moving picture show and illustrated songs. They have secured the services of one of the finest singers to be had, namely Mr. Earl Russell, of San Francisco, who for the past several years has been on one of the leading theatrical circuits. The general admission will be 25 cents, with children, 15 cents. The company have completely renovated the old opera house, and no expense will be spared to make the public comfortable. The moving pictures will be secured from Miles Brothers, one of the largest moving picture dealers in the West.

The Tonopah Club will receive full returns by direct wire from the ring-side of the Gans-Nelson battle on the afternoon of July 4th.
